LONDON, Printed by J. D. for the Company of STATIONERS.

To the true honest English Readers.

Gentlemen, &c.

I Know short Epistles are most acceptable to Men of Business: and seeing the World is now in a general hurry, I think it the best way to say as little as I can, and so save my self the trouble of writing.

Non vacat exiguis rebus adesse Jovi.

I promised a Treatise of the Conjunctions in my last Years, which I do not forget, it hath gone on but slowly since, by reason of some other Affairs that diverted me, but now, I do assure you, it shall shortly kiss your Hands.

I also intend in my next Years Almanack to print the Motions of the Planets, and so add a Table of Houses more correct than heretofore.

And lastly, I do intend to print a few Nativities of some Persons that are dead, and those the common Astrologers can give no reason for; not that I think there is no Truth in Astrology, Ars vera est, sed pauci Artifices, &c. But I shall no more of these things till you see them in publick: which is the desire, and shall be the Endeavour of,

Gentlemen,

Your humble Servant,

Law is that Rule of Right, at first design'd
 For lawless Men, litigiously inclin'd:
 For tho'e bold Beggars that us: this discourse;
 Come Neighbour give, or else we'll take't by force.
 Here Law takes place, and by its power saves,
 Defends the Just, rebukes oppressive Knaves.
 Yet here's the Cause, Brother falls out with Brother,
 To Law they go, with Law they thresh each other.
 Revenge is sweet, resolv'd for Law they be,
 But when they're both made poor, they both agree.
 Henceforth, if Difference fall, pray than the Laws,
 And let your neighbouring Friends decide the Cause;
 This quickly ends the Suit, and cheaper far,
 Than Common-places, King's Bench, or Chancery-bar.

The Introduction.

IN a dark Evening, when the Sun was set,
And Night and Day in sober sadness met;
When dying Day strove with Night's lingering Birth,
And Cloud, like Curtains, serv'd to screen the Earth:
When Night rubs to Labour, Day being done,
And Company of all sorts crowding home:
When all were weary, all both Man and Beast,
And toilsom Labour sent them both to rest.
I, big with Thoughts, went to survey the Town,
When Sol survey'd the VVestern Horizon;
And in the prospect, having gaz'd it o'er,
My Eyes saw much, my Thoughts saw ten times more.
I saw Prophaneity strut along amain,
And at the Popes-head saw the lodg'd her Train.
Vice walk'd in state, with Folly by her side,
Attended too, with Villany and Pride:
As which my Soul grew sad, my Eyes grew wet,
For Grief and Pity in my Bosom met.
I turn'd about, and being thus inspir'd,
Strait to a silent shady Grove retir'd;
'Twas by a River side, my only choice,
The Place as innocent as Paradise;
There did I think, and there bewail these Crimes,
And Judgments too, of the approaching Times.
Sweet were my Sighs and Tears, Thoughts being free,
And all things present seem'd to mourn with me:
The glittering Streams went mourning away,
Slid by the Banks like those strait to stay;
The very Clouds that wander here and there,
And stagger to and fro with Wind and Air,
They seem'd concern'd, and in a hurry run
To know from whence poor Nature's Grievance comes:
Which when they heard, amaz'd, away they crept,
They fled for fear, and as they fled, they wept.
The trembling Trees too seem'd possess'd with Fear,
Shown by their murmur from the broken Air,
Whose shivering Twigs in clusters shooke, and bow'd,
And sighing, Sorrows in their Echo show'd.
Which was no sooner utter'd from the Plain,
But Hills and Valleys it rebounds again.

Monthly Observations.

La nova fere Animus mutata dicere formae Corpora — Div's Aspirant men.

The old English Proverb is; New Lords, new Laws, and some parts of the World find it true; 'tis well if it hold so; nay, and 'tis well if it does not hold; and this seems as great a Paradox, as for a Man's Name to be Wisdom, and yet be a very Fool. The common Question is, Quid habet novus? for every one is gaping after News; and indeed there is some reason for the Affairs of Nations are now brooding, and what will be hatched is the Expectation of every inquisitive Man: Saturn and Jupiter are got into Virgo: Saturn being their old Reception which Mercury's things are now managed with great Policy and Privacy; but pray remember there hath been a Conjunction of the Sun and Mercury, and an Opposition of Saturn and Mars; and before the Month ends, there will be three Oppositions more, Eclipses Solis. The Laws of Nature are sometimes as compulsive as the Laws of Man. Homines discordabunt, & prosequenter se invicem odio. within the Month there was a Conjunction of the Moon and Mars in Opposition to the place of the two last Conjunctions of Jovis and Jupiter, and 'tis just upon the Tropic, which gives it the more power and force. This touches the fate and Affairs also of some great Princes, it either puts him upon some new Design, or else endangers his Life, who hath π ascend, or γ descend. Then Opposition of γ and δ at the beginning of the Month, now seems to appear in Action, and to say the Truth, where ever it falls, it will make strange Divisions; and methinks I hear the sound of Impacment: but this is not all, that is by and observes the end is not yet.

Monthly Observations.

Paulo majore caudamine.

The Month begins with discontented and troublesome Actions, unexpected Differences, and cross Consequences, even in the most probable appearance of success. Now we either bear or see Intimate Friends differ, and indeed distrust each other's Fidelity in the management of some considerable Actions and Affairs, committed to their Care and Conduct; and this happens amongst Servants and Attendants of Princes: Hence proceeds Feuds, Heats, and Animosities, which are not easily again pacified; for the Body poltick is in many Circumstances like the Body natural; for violent and useless Fermentations do often times produce unhappy Accidents, which are not easily removed. Indeed the common Affairs of this Month depend on Councils, Meetings, and Assemblies; some to contrive new projects, and others to finish and accomplish old ones; and these do meet various Contradictions and Disappointments in most of their Undertakings.

*Contention wounds a State, and pulls it down:
Great Strivers men do fly, that makes Monarch's Crown.*

King the Mercury hath thrice opposed the two Superiours this Month and last. Some Clergy-man, or Civilian will either bring himself into Trouble and Contempt by his over-doing, or over-knowing, and this when he least thinks of offending; and I might also, under the same Notion, impeach some busy Lawyer, Accomptant, or the like Imployment, of no small Quality, for his knavish Diligence. The Month ends with some honourable stolid Wedding, the Effect of unkind Parents some times.

The 4 day Mercury

The 7 day Mars

The 8 day Venus

The 17 day Saturn

The 18 day Jupiter

is with the Moon.

Monthly Observations.

The two last Months have been spent in Debates of State-matters; as Ambassadors, Embassies, Leagues, Trearies, Messengers, Agents, and the like, and but little agreed upon; and therefore, now it is time to come to a result; and this the rather, because matters seem now to command it, and necessity indeed compells what Convenience will not allow of.

All the Discourse is now abroad, as well Foreign as Domestic, of Wars, Engagements, and approaching Battels, Preparation for storming some Town, City, or the surprizing some Province, or part of a Countrey, and this Eastward from London. The Emperor seems to be most threatned with the approaching Storms, and that from the Turk: For of late Jupiter passed by the Radical Place of his Moon; which either puts him upon some new Action, or else it provokes him to confirm his former Conquest, by a more secure way of Law or Arms. These kinds of Noises puts other Princes and States into doubt, and upon new ways of security, either by Treaties, Leagues, or defensive Arms. Divers Towns in Flanders fear an approaching Enemy from France; but to speak the Truth, some of the German Princes and Territories have more reason. God preserve those Places and Cities from treacherous Governours and Commanders, and then there is no great fear of his Gallies Force.

And now I have mentioned this passage, let me ask some of our Trearney a Question: Pray what do you now think that dream of Wonders from that late Direction of the Dragon, and of Q in his Nativity, you had my Opinion before, I think I must

The 5 day Mars

The 7 day Venus

The 14 day Saturn

The 15 day Jupiter

} is with the Moon.

Monthly Observations.

Venus was first in Square to Saturn, and next in Square to Jupiter, and this will bear a large share in the Affairs of this Month. Some plotting VVoman is by Saturn detected, and by Jupiter censured; you'll soon hear what the Fact and Offence was: in the mean time, you may observe the approaching Square of Saturn and Mars, from fixed Signs, Event multa facta: Latrones, & Prædones; 'tis true, they are Thieves, but they are such a sort of Thieves, that are not common, nor indeed welcome to any. Much about this time News arrives from Ireland, and tells of some barbarous Actions of the wild Irish. God grant it be no worse; some small Differences among the Clergy, which disturbs the Court of Rome, but it is not of any Continuance. The Month ends with some Removes among the Gownmen.

Monthly Observations,

Time is the wheel of Fate, that turns round the Hand of edion, and Fate is the effect and adjunct of the Presence and Finger of God, that unseen Agent which shakes the Actions and Passions of men into order and disorder, according to the preappointment of that great and eternal Being, divus in No.

Great and weighty matters are now under consideration and Council among divers sorts and qualities of men, and these for some time will be managed with great secrecy and privacy, and carried on with as much vigor and industry as possible the Art and Invention of man can contrive, in order to the putting these Projects into Actions, there are terria Countries in Europe that will be more than ordinarily concern'd at or about this time, i. e. in this Month be the succeeding for the Configurations of the Heavens do seem to shew some kind of action and undertakings that will be both strange and amazing to the beholders.

South Pyrites, shall this attend, if the stars will.

This Month is indeed attended with variety of Actions among all sorts and qualities of men, from the long Robe to the long Whisk, grumbings and grudging among great and noble, perhaps imphancements, Quarrels, and Duck among Gentlemen, Murders, and such like Actions among the more ordinary sort. Rites faciant, etc. & sicut in magna secretos per gyri riva, atque discordia interritus & magnates. These great Consultations and Contrivances should be about Offices or Officers of Cities, Priviledges, Liberties, &c.

6 day Venus
7 day Saturn
8 day Jupiter

is with the Moon.

Monthly Observations.

What still in Consultations? that work is best that is soonest done; yet I confess Deliberation and Advice doth make all undertakings the more secure; for in the multitude of Counsellors there is safety; but the endeavours of men have not alwaies the desired and expected success; neither do Contrivances alwaies answer what the Projectors intend.

The Conjunction of the Sun and Mars will have a strange effect in some Countries in Europe, and some Prince (perhaps one East from England) finds it true; now if Prudence and the thing called Wisdom can prevent it, let them concerned in it, show an experiment, and be wise be-times: From the last Months Actions, and this Months Effects, methinks I see just occasion to predict some considerable loss to great money'd men, and this from the Breking of some great Banker or Bankers; in or about the City of London; some Clergy-men frownd at by their Prince, and also several belonging to the Law turned out, and others put in their places; why may not we hear of some sight about this time?

when passion Reigns; and blood Stars engage:

Fear begets fear in a distracted Age.

I dare be so bold in my Judgment, that from this Conjunction of the Sun and Mars, we shall certainly hear in London of more Duels, Fights, Quarrels, Murders &c. about these times, than in some Months before; for where and wheresoever such Positions happen, they do certainly excite the Passions of men, and put them into an unnatural ferment; but seeing nature is uneasy, and travels in pain, what can we expect, but a hard labour at her delivery?

20 day Mars and Mercury

is with the Moon.

Monthly Observations.

The Month enters with an Eclipse of the Sun, and a violent Lunation also; and it is the Opinion of the Learned, that Mars in Cancer, especially at this season of the Year, doth increase Diseases, and their malignity. Gravabitur homines causa redditus morborum, & erunt febres, & alia egritudines, & erunt dolores gutturis & pectoris, & gravabitur calor, & minuetur pluvia. Yet an Eclipse of the Sun in Cancer, doth usually give rain; but Mars being so near, may alter that Aporisim. Here we find Mercury joyn'd to Mars, homines falsabunt monetam, that is, there shall be more cheats plaid by Money'd-men, or by those who deal in Money, and make it their Trade, i. e. They shall Break, and so defraud their Creditors; but this seem to shew it likely to happen in Holland or Scotland, or some other parts remote from London.

Jupiter hath lately transited the place of the Sun, in a great Scorpionists Nativity; this makes the French King hold up his head, and talk big; but hold Sir, make not too much hast, your Career will be obstructed by that which you least expect; Europes Distractions multiply, and indeed Holland begins to look about sharp, and I think it is but time, for there is some appearance and threats of an Invasion.

*All comes from God, to him our hopes are rais'd.
He gives, and takes, his Holy Name be prais'd.*

Monthly Observations.

There is great noise made about Offenders that are newly discovered; but whether they are accused for Clipping and Coining, or for Letters that concern the State, let time discover, I shall in this place not take upon me to decide or dispute the point.

The Month begins quietly and peaceably, as to the general Affairs of Europe; but about the middle, or suddenly after, between flying reports of the Death of some great man, the Sickness and Misfortunes of others, there is a great stir made, but the end is all. Quam Sol Jurgitur cum Saturno significat quodd mendacia & deceptiones remouentur ab hominibus.

Venus Retrograde in her detriment in Conjunction with Mercury, denotentur secreta noua: but I judge no deep mystery of Philosophy, but rather some venerable Discovery of some Love Intrigues, homines gaudebunt cum mulieribus; but Venus is going Retrograde to the Conjunction of the Sun, and then to Saturn, which usually gives discontented Marriages, by reason of crossgrain'd, and ill natur'd Parents, and these things will not only fall upon the Inferior sort and rank, but also upon the Noble, &c.

Monthly Obſervat.

The Princes of Europe begin to be weary of Distraction, and the Ruin which is the effect of Wars and Differences, and here seems not only an Inclination to it, but several do endeavour the healing of these Breaches and Differences by Treaties, Propositions, and such like means; but the Sword of the destroying Angel is not yet satisfied, as you may perceive by the Position of Mars, in the last Luna-tion so near the Lyons heart; and therefore, about the beginning of this Month we may expect to hear of some Battle, Skirmish, Storming of a Town, surprise of an Enemy, or the like Action, either de facto, done, or else preparing so to be.

This is a good Position for those who have it on their radical Luminaries in the Medium Celi; it fortunes Spain and Hungaria, the latter of which will receive some advantage thereby. Multa cadunt, &c.

The Conjunction of Mars and Venus so near the body of Saturn, and all in Sextile to Mercury, carries a suspicious Face; nay, give me leave to be positive; Here are now, and the Month following, strange Contrivances in hand, close and Clandestine, and it looks as like a Papists Machine as can be, for Saturn alwaies personates that Hellish Clergy, and the rather in Virgo; but I shall have occasion to speak more of this in the next Month: The Conjunction of Mars and Venus, gives exorbitant and beastly Whoredoms, and beastly Actions, contra naturam.

Monthly Observations.

The Month begins with a Conjunction of Saturn and Mars, whose Effects are sufficient matter for a Preachment of a Month long; but I cut my Coat according to my Cloath, and contract it in fewer lines. Then observe this Conjunction happens in Virgo, a humane sign, the dignities of Mercury, and in the first decanate of that Sign; and hence I shall judge a twofold effect; first it gives Quarrels, Murders, and Deceits among men; the Highwayes are infested with Thieves and Robbers, whence will proceed Murders and Bloodshed, because it falls in a humane Sign; and tho' the World be alwaies full of fraud and villany; yet at this time you will see it more publick and notorious; But secondly, as Saturn signifies the Romish Clergy, so it shews some designs on Foot, and in Contrivance; for at the last New Moon, all the Planets were Subterranean, which shews the design to be close and private, managed by such as are as well able to keep Counsel as to give it.

The World is full of Hurries and Distractions; some parts of Germany, partly by Differences, and partly from Enemies, is reduced to a bad Condition; Sweden and the Affairs thereof appear ill; the Prince and his Nobles can scarce trust each other; neither can he and his Subjects very well agree; matters are preparing now, tho' it is but slowly, against the Square of Saturn and Jupiter, 1698. and then look to it.

Monthly Observations.

Let the considering Artist, and thinking Reader, take notice, that Venus hath of late been twice in Conjunction with Saturn, and twice in Conjunction with Mars, and all in Virgo; the dignities of Mercury, this seems to declare that the Intrigues of the Papists and Roman Clergy, and other Politicians of that Faction, have occasion, and find business for Women to do, and act in toward the accomplishing their base ends and hellish Designs; but the best on't is, either Lechery or Luxury prevents or disables the Design; the wicked shall perish in their Imaginations; but they that trust in God, shall never be deceived, si deus nobiscum quis contra nos.

Mars is entred Libra, and keeps company with Venus through that sign, and anon he meets with the Sextile of the Sun; this gives us some news from Jamaica, which may be pleasant to some people, but not very grateful to others; this gives troubles in Denmark, and also disappoints that Prince in some of his great Expectations; neither doth Portugal in joy what she wisheth; perhaps there may be some Disturbances and Differences at this time, and indeed in most parts of Europe the people are possessed with strange fears and jealousies; and conceive very odd Opinions of their Governours; yet the affairs in publick are managed with much smoothness, and things move with a very gentle easie motion. My Author says, Quoties cunque Venus Jungitur cum Jove significat mulieribus castitatem; that as often as Venus shall be joyned to Jupiter, it shews chastity in Women; sure he doth not mean all Women; if he doth, we must expect a strange and sudden Change and Reformation; which vix erit.

Monthly Observations.

This Month threatens some Countries with Persecution for Religion, and this pretty sharp too; the Devil will never leave off, to instruct the wicked to destroy the just; and this should be either at Paris, Lyons, or Tholous, or some other parts of France; and it is to be feared, many are forced into other Countries for quiet and conscience sake; the old Romish Babylon will never be quiet, till the Judgements of God makes her as miserable, as she has made the habitable part of Europe; for I dare affirm it, and that upon very good authority, that the Church of Rome hath destroyed more Protestants, and others, upon the pretence of Religion, than all the Heathen Kings did before in their Conquests.

The Square of the Sun and Saturn, puts some great Prince to his nonplus, he is disappointed, and that troubles and Vexeth him; this calls to Council, and things are disordered in order to a Regulation, as they call it; but let it pass, magna veritas & prevalebit. The King of Sweden is threatened with disappointment, and perhaps a dissembler; that Kingdom is uncase, and the Prince unhappy in his Government.

The Affairs of Religion and State, is all the discourse in England; and things are expected, and so remain to the end of the year.

Time, that great King, commands, and all obey;
The sitting minutes pass, with them the day,
So do our Months on this great wheel attend,
And by this motion brings our Years to end.

Judicium Astrologicum, 1684.

Begin my Judgment of the Year 1684, from the Ingress of the Sun into Capricorn § December the eleventh, 1683, two hours, 45 minutes, P. M. at which time the face of the Heaven in the Meridian of London is as followeth: Aquarius 9 deg. culminant, and Gemini 14 deg. ascending: the Moon 12 deg. in Aquarius, and Mars in 16: the Sun 00 deg. in Capricorn, and Venus in 8 deg. of Capricorn: Mercury 14 degrees in Sagittarius and Saturn in 4 deg. and Jupiter in 31 deg. of Virgo.

The Position is, in general, violent, and indeed so will the Actions thereof proceeding: for there is not one Planet well placed in the whole Scheme; the Moon she is applying to the body of Mars and square of Mercury; these two Stars have the great and sole Government of the Brain, and the Faculties thence proceeding; for the Moon governs the substantial part, i. e. the body of the Brain, as matter; and Mercury governs the Effluvia or Actions of it, which is (in plain terms) the intellectual part of Man. Now what can we expect should be the Effects of this Position? when the two Governors of Reason and Sense are afflicted and fermented by the great Corrosive among the Stars, Mars. The Operation of this on the Actions and Passions of Men, is like some Corrosive Oil, or Spirit, that that is poured upon a fix'd Salt, which never gives over fermenting till the whole mass of both kinds is altered, and such will be the Effect of this Position in those Countries subject to the dire Influence of these malignant Rays and Aspects. And let me further tell you, should we allow, as indeed most Professors do, the Figure of the Ingress to be exactly true and exact, here is a greater Energetical Power in this Position then most of the vulgar Astrologers do really understand; and upon such a Position, those Actions destructive to Man do generally ensue, Luna juncta Marti, significat Rumores, & sanguinum effusiones & mandata multa; there will be strange Rumors, shedding of Blood, and much Deceit and Lying. And this naturally flows two ways; first from the Violence of the present impending Affairs: and secondly from the Effect of such pernicious and wicked Councils that shall under the Influence of this Ingress be hatched and contrived: but that which aggravates this Position yet more, is the part of Heaven where it falls, first ecliptically, and secondly, mundanly: for the ecliptical place of this Conjunction is directly opposite to the place of the last Conjunction of Saturn and Jupiter in Leo: this doth advance its Effects, and indeed increase its Malignity; but mundanely, it happens in this Figure and Meridian too, in the tenth House, the Angle of Honour.

The great Masters and Textuaries in this kind of Learning, do all agree, that the Moon in Conjunction with Mars, is a Position that threatens Mankind with Calamities of all kinds, that belong to the Nature of Mars; and as they are so near Mid-heaven, it shews it's Expedition, and that what depends on this Ingress will be perpetrated in a short time after. But in reference to what I said before, it falling in exact Opposition to the last Conjunction of Saturn and Jupiter, so it will promote and hasten some of the the Effects that depend on that Congress, and that is, difference about Lordship and Dominion. The Effects carry a bloody Consequence, and happy is he that proves to be the Favourite to Fortune, that great Queen of the Universe, that gives the Garland of Victory to whom she pleaseth. But these Actions and Extremities seem threatened to some of the more Eastern Parts, where the People and their Princes have not Faith to believe or trust each other:

Yet

Yet if we consider the Position of the Moon and Mars in a fixed Sign, it may stave off and defer these Effects till toward the Spring of the Year, till Mars gets to the Opposition of Jupiter, and then to his own House Aries; & this gives Courage to some of those drooping Souls that have long languished under the Distractions of those ruined Countries, God give them a happy Deliverance; I hope the Affairs of England go on well and quietly.

I know there are some that would lay great Strefs upon the Conjunction of the Sun and Venus, and the Trine of them with Saturn, but those things are indeed but gaudy Complements, fit rather to look upon, than to trust to; for the Affliction is indeed a real Square, and according to the nature of it, so will its Effects be; Discontents between great Men and their Wives, or to speak more complaisant, their Ladies, Divorce, Abortions, with other Misfortunes of that kind and kind, that do usually attend a married Life.

The Diseases of this Quarter will proceed from Colds, and they give Distempered Lungs, a disordered Stomach, with those Accidents that do usually attend such Diseases. But besides, this orderly and regular Course, we must expect some other Accidents more unusual, as Torments about the Stomach and Hypochonders, Gripes of the Belly, especially the upper part. And so I shall conclude my Judgment of this Brumal Quarter, and proceed to consider the Vernal; in the Calculation of which, I do follow the Tables of Mr. Thomas Street, they being, in my Opinion, the best extant for those Tables, to speak the Truth, came nearest the time of the Conjunction of Saturn and Jupiter, performed by Calculation, and compared with Observations afterwards; and therefore for this Reason, I resolve to follow them, although I know they differ more than an Hour from other Tables.

Let Error cease, yet let Scepticks know, Truth's that give'st Altar to which all must bow.

Judicium Astrologicum, 1684.

Here are three things material in the Consideration of this Year's Affairs, as they relate to the publick and common Actions of Europe, and the particular Kingdoms and Nations thereof. The first is, the Vernal Ingress; the second, the great Eclipse of the Sun in July; and the third is the Conjunction of Saturn and Mars in Virgo, the great Dignities of Mercury, in about thirteen Degrees of that Sign. These I shall consider as principal and most eminent, with other things that shall occur in the course of this Year's Motion; and though these latter are less material then the other, yet they all together make up that great Body of Causes according as they are united, beheld, beheld, or beholding: for every touch in Musick helps to make up the Harmony; and let me tell you, there is as much use for the Plough-boy in his place, as the greatest General in his, and the least Atom is as certainly a part of the Universe, as the biggest Mountain; and therefore in this kind of Judgment and Learning, all things ought to be considered together, the more exactly to complete the Astrologick Judgment of the whole Year.

In the Month preceding the Ingress, there was no less than five Oppositions, and to complete all, at last a Conjunction of Mars and Venus in Aries. This was a very fit Introduction both for the Ingress, and for the present Affairs thence depending; for whoever shall seriously observe those Configurations, and compare them with this Figure here before us, and compare this with the following Configurations, may soon give a Judgment on the Actions of the Spring-Quarter, and the whole Year also.

Saturn and Mars are really Enemies to Nature, as certainly as the Sun and Moon are Promoters of Life: and therefore the two great Lights of Heaven being thus disposed, and going toward the Infortunes, doth not only shew Death by War, Poverty, Captivity, &c. but it also threatens them with Sickness and Mortality; and indeed Mars is the strongest Planet in the whole Figure, and therefore may be allowed the Power of Lord of the Year, &c. Qui facit in Divisio Aristi est malum futurum, Et Inam atq; Inveniam Et Rurum; that when Mars is in Aries, then shall some evil thing happen to those Countries subject to that Sign. Now what this Malum futurum is, we will take it from Heb and Guido, although it might be easily resolved without them; for the Moon in Scorpio to Saturn from earthy and fiery Signs, shews a putrid adult Melancholy, and Diseases thence proceeding, and such are all kind of malignant Fevers; and indeed there is no Disease that is acute and violent, but hath more or less of this putrid and adult Melancholy. Mars in Aries in the eighth, and the Sun going to his Conjunction, shews, and as far as can be, doth demonstrate the abounding of Choler and Choletick Humors, from from whence proceeds Fevers of all kinds, but especially pestilential ones: Hence it may give us just occasion to fear a Mortality by some violent pestilential Fever; yet I do not think it will be considerably great, though I fear it will be common to several Countries, and by that means popular.

Nay, and this Figure and Position too, doth menace Mankind with War likewise as well as Infirmities and Diseases; that is, it shews some new Difference and Irruption, either by the breach of a League, &c. Impositions, or such like means: but let the Ground be what it will, there is reasonable grounds both to foresee and predict also, some War either by Sea or Land, in these Northern Parts of Europe: Si Saturnus fuerit in duodecima, litigabunt Homines & habebunt mutuas Inimicitias, & accideant in illo Climate damna & occasiones ex Libris, & malis inter Homines Voluntates. Haly, Pag. 370. That when Saturn shall be in the twelfth House, as he is here, it gives Strife and Contention, and Men shall have Enemies in their own Bosoms, so familiar a thing shall Quarrels be; for indeed Saturn in Leo doth naturally give Corruption, Depravation to all things, as effectually as Mars in Aries in the eighth: Mars in octava, est ibi horribilis mortalitas subitanea secundum Naturam signi in quo fuerit.

Mars in Conjunction with Venus in the eighth doth generally give Debauchery of all kinds, but especially those Venereal, and such too at this time as will be acted and perpetrated with great Vigor and Privacy. The Conjunction falls in Aries within the Rays of the Trine of Saturn. This will aggravate and increase the Villany and Filthiness of such Actions: Multas Fornicationes & mala, & multas Fornicationes in Mulieribus. But perhaps you'll say that this Prediction is unnecessary, because we had such a continued Course of this kind of Vice for so many Years together. Why tis true, and the Devil is in them, if they are much worse then they are; or have been, however at this time, if it is possible to out-do the former, it may be now expected, and put in practice. And so I come to consider the Sun's Eclipse; only the second, which is as followeth.

Angles of the Figure, so that the Effects hence depending are of a twofold Quality, first from the Eclipse it self; and secondly from those Stars that are the Governours thereof. Doctrine and Experience teacheth us that Eclipses in general do presage Evil, because there is either a Deficiency or Deprivation of Light really, as in the Eclipse of the Moon; or else there is an accidental Deprivation, as in the Sun; but this of the Sun is the more material, as past Experience hath well observed, and Reason seems to confirm; because it is only made when the two great Luminaries are in Conjunction, reciprocally contracting and receiving Principles of different qualities, and they fructified and form'd for Action according to the ecliptical Constellation under which they meet, which must be considered with those Stars governing the Eclipse, which are here the Malevolents, therefore the Effects will be probably so likewise.

All the Textuaries in this Learning that have come to my hand, as Polomy, Cardan, Proclus, Ludovicus de Regio, and others, do agree that an Eclipse of the Sun in Cancer, doth undoubtedly presage Damage to Mankind, by excess of Wet, Rain, Inundations, or the like; and to this purpose Ptolemy speaks in the second Book of his Quadripartito, Qua Figura si fuerint marinus S. v. p. delphis marinis Piscibus, classibusq; insuper & Navigationibus, that if the Sign it happens in be Cancer, it signifies Sea-fish, Ships, and Sailors shall suffer by the Effects of such an Eclipse. Quando Eclipses fiunt in Aquen ob imbrium abundantiam & sterilitates, & Pestes portendunt; that Eclipses in watery Sign, because of abundance of Rain, give Barrenness and Pestilence. Card. fig. 7. Apho. 34.

This Eclipse doth immediately concern Holland and Scotland, and threatens those Countries with the Effects hereof; the like Fate is also denounced to the Signiory of Venice, it falling exactly in the Ascendent of that City, but under the Effects of it is Deliquium, it threatens some Difference among her Senators, with a Discovery of some Treachery and Traitors in that State, and perhaps some Inundation, or Invasion by Sea, &c. Holland is threatned with the over-flowing of the Banks of that Country, and other Misfortunes amongst their States-men; but let because there is no other things to concur with this to injure that State, it cannot much imbroil them in Misfortunes, especially in such as may threaten that Protestant State with a Catastrophe: But it threatens Scotland with greater Misfortunes than either of the other two, and what that is, doth really concern their State; now how these Misfortunes may principally arise, Carden seems to shew a reason for it in his 7th fig. Aphor. 109, and 110. and fig. 2. Aphor. 16. Eclipsam Solis Effectum potenter facit, quando scilicet flarentem Messum rapidant Serenitatem offinant; that if Eclipses of the Sun happen in the beginning of Harvest, it gives Barrenness; I am of Opinion it signifies Scarcity, because it threatens a wet Season, and because Jupiter is in the month, which shews the Price of Wheat to rise. Thus far Authors upon this Subject.

My Opinion is, to the best of my Experience, that this Eclipse signifies and shews tumultuous meetings, rebellious Diffraction, and Destruction in States, scarcity of Grain, and a wet Harvest. And Cardan gives a reason for it too, Segment 5. Aphor. 45. Eclipse Luminarium Super Civitates, Provincias, & Regna magis quam super privata Conditionis Homines, aut niam super Reges, respiciunt enim Multitudinem: Says he, Eclipses do more concern Cities, Provinces and Kingdoms, than Kings and Men of a private Condition, for they respect the multitude. And so I come next to consider the Conjunction of Saturn and Mars, in the beginning of October, in thirteen degrees of Virgo, the House and Dignities of Mercury. In this Conjunction I shall consider the Lunation preceding, and from thence endeavour to help my self in my Judgment to unfold the meaning and mysteries of this Congress. First then, consider, Saturn is really peregrine, and therefore the more malevolent; Mars is out of all Dignities of his own, but in exile and Reception with Mercury; so that Mars must be allowed some fortitude, though not much, yet enough to exceed Saturn, and to have Power sufficient to put the old Gentleman into an ill Humor, and instead of raising his Reason, firmness his Passion of Melancholy, which makes him discover himself to be what indeed he is, one void of Reason and Humanity.

A:

At the Preventional New Moon we shall find all the Planets under the earth, and these two worthy Gentlemen in the fifth House with Venus, which if well considered, is a strange Heterogeneous Mixture, and 'tis just like this, an old decrepitate Usurer, a bold true-bred Souldier, and a luxurious amorous Wench, and the next thing is to inquire what Business they have together, for I doubt they are——

Haly says, Si quando Mars junctus fuerit cum Saturno, fructus quilibet a terra Fraudes & Deceptiones, & erunt inter Homines Percussiones & Vulnere, maxime si fuerit in signo humano etiam accidet Regi impedimentum & Labor ab Homine qui est de terra partitionis illius Signi in quo junguntur: When Mars shall be joyned to Saturn in a human Sign, it gives Stiffe, Deceit, Fighting with Effusion of Blood, and that the King of that Country subject to the sign of the Conjunction, shall be troubled, and suffer Loss and Labour from his Neighbours or Subjects. Morinus says, fol. 751. ♂ ♄ & ♄ est semper valde mala, & hanc Conjunctionem semper secuta sunt Corruptiones Aeris, Pestes, Bella, &c. That the Conjunction of Saturn and Mars gives Corruption of the Air, Plague, War, &c. And to this purpose also Albumassar speaks, Cader rixa & Bellum, & erunt Prælia in locis diversis; that there shall be Difference and Wars in many places. So that it is the consent of all Authors, that this Conjunction cannot presage good but evil to Mankind. And because no Author hath explained the meaning of such a Conjunction with all it's Circumstances, as it is here before us, I will give my Judgment to the best of my Knowledge, what such a Position, and in particular, this may presage.

In the Figure we find Gemini ascending, and Mercury Lord of the Ascendent in Scorpio, a fixed violent Sign, and all the seven Planets in the fifth and sixth Houses of Heaven, and under the Earth. This shews some great Meeting or Council concerned to consult about the Affairs of Nations, the Design is considerable as well as politick, for it is in the House of Mercury, and his greatest Dignities too. The occasion of this Consultation is by

Judicium Astrologicum, 1684.

reason of some Defeat either in Council or Arms some few weeks before this Conjunction, and it is so general, that the whole Faction both Men and Women are engaged both for Council and Action; but Debauchery will either prevent or corrupt the Enterprize designed. It is for some underraking in conquests are in Arms, or some other hostile Combination, in which several are solicited to engage, as we may see by some in the fifth House, which signifies Ambassadors, Agents, Messengers, and such like Services, to a Prince or State, these are sent to engage some Prince or Princess into a League and Alliance, or to treat and negotiate about a Peace, &c. Perhaps now the King of Denmark or Sweden, may be courted to join with some distressed Prince or State, or some Agent sent to treat of Peace or Trade in the Mediterranean Sea.

Of the Eclipses of this Year, 1684.

There will be four Eclipses this Year, two of the Sun, and two of the Moon.

The first will be of the Sun, January the sixth, at Night, and therefore invisible.

The second is of the Moon, June the seventeenth, about three of the Clock in the Morning, visible to us.

The third is of the Sun, July the third, at three Afternoon, a great Eclipse, and visible at London, if clear weather.

The fourth is of the Moon, December the eleventh, at eleven of the Clock at Night, visible at London.
